SUMMARY

I'm Front-end web designer and developer who specializes in creating dynamic and beautiful web pages. I have been in the field for nearly 7 years, and have been loving every minute of it. As a professional Front-end web developer, I bring a range optimization and quality in code to every project I work on. I love to explore design and interact people with it. I served my first two years at a small company as a blogger and SEO, but have since moved onto Front-end full time.
